Biography

Travis felt a call to Asia as a small child, but it wasn't after he turned eighteen that God called him to Japan. He joined the Marine Corps and through this avenue God brought him to Okinawa Japan. While serving in the military he started working in AIM for Japanese Missions, leading several cell groups on bases, driving the church van, preaching, teaching Bible studies, and ministering to the locals. In 2015 he left the church in Okinawa Japan and moved to a different island to start a church in Miyakojima Japan. During this time he was heavily involved in outreach, praying for the sick, hospital visits, working in the communities, teaching Bible studies, pastoring, counseling, leading cell groups, teaching Purpose Institute classes, and recently started having worship and preaching in public park areas. It was through these efforts that he met his Japanese wife who now supports him greatly in church bookkeeping, worship, translation, counseling women, teaching Bible studies, outreach efforts, and preparing meals for cell groups. They were appointed as Intermediate Missionaries May of 2022. They love the people of Miyakojima and the nation of Japan and look forward to great revival.
