Biography

Daniel and Tabitha DeTemple have been involved in ministry in some form for most of their lives. Daniel worked under Pastor Jerald Staten to assist with a home missions church in Washington, D.C., and Tabitha is the daughter of home missions Pastor Mick Cluster. Their ministries have included teaching Bible studies, teaching youth, Sunday

School, church planting, evangelism and house churches. Daniel worked in the Republic of Georgia from 2012-2013 on the Associates In Missions program and returned in 2015 with his family for an eight month term. They went back to the Republic of Georgia in March of 2016 where they are working to grow a church in the capital city. They teach Bible studies and lead men and women's ministry. Tabitha is involved in the music ministry and they both teach Bible school students. The DeTemples were appointed as intermediate missionaries in March 2016.
