

Words From Wales

Kyle, Amanda, Isaac & Cooper Kelley

During this season, we thank God for you, our friends. As we reflect and look back over the year, our minds and hearts hold memories of each of you. Some we have known a lifetime: family and friends. Some we only met briefly, ate a meal together, stayed in your Missions Quarters or had a service with you, but for some reason, you chose to partner with us on this journey in searching for the hungry souls in Wales. Even though you are not here physically walking through the streets, meeting the people, it is because of you and through your support God is starting to move in His way and in His time. New memories were created this year. New friends were made this year; and because God allowed it, and because of you, a new church is being established this year in Wales.

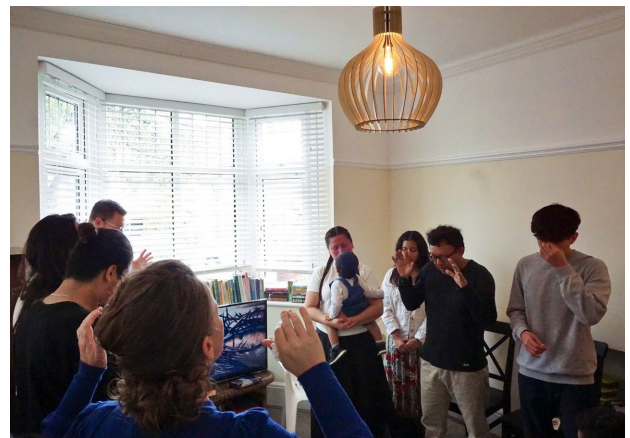

Please continue to pray for our boys, Isaac and Cooper. Isaac is finishing his last year of school and is looking for direction in the next steps of his life. Cooper has joined Sea Cadets and is learning all kinds of nautical notions.

Once again, thank you for your continued support and prayer. We pray your Christmas is cozy, and your New Year blessed and kept of God.

Para nuestros seguidores de habla hispana, gracias por su apoyo y que Dios los bendiga en los próximos.

Points of Prayer

- God would continue to lead us to key people.
- As we start services in a rented facility in January.
- To further connect with and establish connections made with people.
- For continued direction in reaching Wales
