Take the Church to the People

Since March 2020 there have been only a few weeks that the churches were allowed to hold services. Then the government shut the doors to the churches. However as one pastor put it: 'if the people can't come to the church then we'll take the church to the people.'

And that's what the churches did in Argentina. As more and more restrictions were placed on social gatherings, the churches met in homes, outdoors, wherever they could, and had Sunday school, ladies' meetings, men's gatherings, new groups, and the church just kept growing.

They baptized people in swimming pools, rivers and in the cold Atlantic Ocean. People received the Holy Ghost in the parks and plazas, in homes, in groups and individually. Many miracles of healings were also reported.

Just recently the government allowed the churches to have up to 30% of a building capacity, so the doors are slowly opening again. But the home fellowship groups will continue as will the revival in Argentina.

The Miracle of the Roofs

We are so excited about the miraculous response to the need for roofs on churches. To date there have been about 15 churches that have been able to complete the roofs on their buildings and enclose the building before the winter cold and rains come. One pastor, upon receiving the news that he would be receiving financial help for the church roof, broke down weeping in thanksgiving.

To the many, many donors we want to say thank you on behalf of the churches that have received and will receive the blessings of the offering.
