Biography

The Wicketts received their missionary appointment to Fiji and the Solomon Islands in 2016. Immediately upon arrival in Fiji in 2018, they were given the responsibility of the administration of the Bible school. There were thirty students in 2018, and within three years they opened three new Bible school campuses and had a record enrollment of 135 students at their four campuses. Much of their focus has been on teaching and training the nationals, traveling to the local churches, and evangelizing throughout Fiji. They are endeavoring to open two more campuses upon their return, one in Kiribati, where a local national Fijian has been sent as a Regional Missionary. As Assistant General Superintendent of the work in the Solomon Islands and President of the Bible college, Brother Wickett has traveled into the Solomon Islands conducting teaching seminars to help support the work and ministry as they continue to see greater revival. He is also the GATS (Global Association of Theological Studies) Pacific Representative and has traveled to various countries in the Pacific Region assisting Bible schools and conducting faculty development training.
